

Bo Burnham: Lower Your Expectations

E You want a guy that's sweet

A guy that's C#mi tough

A feminist who likes to pay for A stuff

The kinda guy that gets along with your friends

Without H being attracted to any of them

A good boy, a bad boy, a good bad boy

A half good half bad half boy

Loves your brother, sensitive but not weak and

Is a great lover, calls your mother on the weekend

E Then you might A think that this guy E only H exists in your C#mi mind A

E Well guess what: H you're right

R: E If you want C#mi love A

H Lower your expectations a E C#mi few

Because Prince A Charming would never H settle for you

If you want love

Just pick a guy and love him

And if he's got a thing for feet, say fuck it, sweep me off them

You want a girl that's nice

A girl that's not

Obsessed with her looks but is insanely hot

The kind of girl that you can show to your folks

Loves the movies that you like and always laughs at your jokes

A real girl, a hot girl, a really hot girl

A brand new really hot real doll

Wants to impress you doesn't care if you notice

And only ever uses you to tickle her throat with

Then you might think that this girl

only exists in your mind

But she's real, but last week, she died

R: If you want love

Lower your expectations a lot

You might think your dick is a gift I promise it's not

If you want love

Just pick a girl and love her

Then whip out your dick and let the girl you love decline the offer

A I don't want a E neat freak I don't want a H slob
Or somebody with bedhead and a dead-end A job
Cause I won't E settle for H less Than C#mi H perfect

We want perfect children, a perfect life
Perfect husband or a perfect wife
But deep down we know
We don't deserve it

But

We E all deserve C#mi love A
H Even on the days when E we aren't our C#mi best Cause we all A suck
But love can H make us suck less

We all deserve love
It's the very best part of being alive
And I would know
I just turned twenty-five (one)
